

Time Out for Reading

September 7, 2007
10:00 a.m.

“Put Your Nose in a Book and Read!”

Businesses, groups and organizations that participate will be recognized for their support of literacy!

Free red noses and bookmarks are available!

Reader Level — Promote, encourage or organize reading activities for employees or organization members.

Literacy Provider Level — Provide financial support for Time Out for Reading: red noses, help with publicity costs, etc.

~ To arrange your group's participation contact TIME OUT FOR READING by email (timeout4reading@cs.com) or telephone (219-933-2419 x1966) or connect to the Web site below. ~

Time Out for Reading is co-sponsored by the Northwest Indiana Literacy Coalition with local organizations. Visit www.nwiliteracy.org for more information.

Students

Parents

Teachers

Support Staff

Administrators

Business Leaders

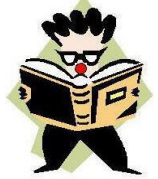

Organization Leaders

Government Personnel

And The Public...

are invited to be caught with “Their Nose in a Book”. Help show the importance of literacy!

“Put Your Nose in a Book

TAKE TIME OUT TO READ through independent or group reading. Read from the selections below or whatever you like! Join an estimated 100,000 in Northwest Indiana who will participate. Put your nose in a book wherever you are on September 7.

Books to Bridge the Region recommends...

For Adults: Into the Forest
by Jean Hegland

For Teens: Never Cry Wolf
by Farley Mowat

For Middle School: Flush
by Carl Hiaasen

Picture/Easy Reading: The Great Kapok Tree: A Tale of the Amazon Rain Forest
by Lynne Cherry

Northwest Indiana
Literacy Coalition

